

Jim Stadler Elected to AGC Board of Directors

Commodore's Director of Preconstruction & Purchasing, Jim Stadler, has been elected to serve as a member of the AGC Board of Directors. He will serve as a Vice Chair of the Young Contractors Council and next year, as the organization's Chair. This honor acknowledges Jim's extensive knowledge and his achievement in the industry.

Under Jim's leadership, the AGC will continue to focus on membership recruitment and retention, industry alliances and growth of the AGC's Job Site Safety Service. As the construction industry is undergoing many changes, the AGC has placed their trust in Jim to help guide the organization as it addresses the many challenges of the future.
