NONPROFIT STARTS $3M NORWOOD BUILDING RENOVATION

NORWOOD – Exploration School Inc. has launched a $2.9 million renovation of the former Norwood Press building at 932 Washington St.

The nonprofit organization plans to turn the roughly 30,000-square-foot building into an "Exploration Center" and will base its Exploration Summer Programs there. The building will provide space for teacher training, curriculum development and administrative offices. The organization runs summer classes for children in grades 4 through 12.

The project was started on June 4 and is expected to be finished by November. About 25 employees will work in the building. The space will include 11,750 square feet for offices and nearly 22,000 square feet for storage. Pinck & Co. of Boston is the project manager, and Commodore Builders of Newton is the general contractor. The project was designed by Joy & Hamilton Architects of Auburn, Maine.
